

THE REV. DIANA L. WILCOX

The Rev. Diana Wilcox is the Rector of Christ Church in Bloomfield & Glen Ridge, a diverse urban/suburban parish in the Diocese of Newark. In the Episcopal Church, she serves on the Executive Council Committee on Corporate Social Responsibility, has been as a deputy to General Convention multiple times, was appointed to the Special Committee on Sexual Harassment and Exploitation, and served on the Constitution and Canons legislative committee. Recently, Mother Diana was a presenter at an EPN Pre-Conference and at a Climate Justice Ministries workshop. She also served on the Provincial Court for Province II. Within the Diocese of Newark, she has served as a congregational consultant, on the Standing Committee, as VP of Diocesan Council, on the Ecumenical/Interfaith Commission, on the Crossroads Camp board, as a Chaplain at Montclair State University, and more.

Prior to being called to ordained life, Mother Diana had 20 years business experience working with large multi-national corporations, and still lectures in college business classes.

THE REV. DANIELLE BAKER

The Reverend Danielle D. Baker is Priest-in-charge at St. Paul's Episcopal Church Morris Plains. She is a lifelong resident of Morristown, graduated from Morristown High, and attended Methodist University in Fayetteville, NC, where she majored in business and minored in economics. While in college, she obtained All-American and Hall of Fame status as a varsity track and field member. After graduation, she worked as a technical sales and business development manager for IBM and Microsoft.

As a long-time member of St. Peter's, Morristown, she has served as a church school teacher, chalice bearer, lector, lay eucharistic visitor, stewardship chair, finance committee, chaplain, minister of ceremonies, vestry member, and warden.

After discerning a call to the priesthood, Rev. Danielle served a 2-year internship at St. Bernard's Episcopal Church in Bernardsville, NJ, and graduated with honors from Drew University Theological Seminary in May 2021. She was awarded the John Heston Willey Prize for excellence in pulpit oratory and manner.

Today, Rev. Danielle serves on the Alumni Board at Methodist University. In the Diocese of Newark, she serves as the Vice President of the Union of Black Episcopalians (UBE), Property Chair on the Standing Committee, a member of the Anti-Sexism Task Force, and a Board Member and Associate at the Community of St John Baptist. She is also the proud Aunt of her nieces, nephews, and nephew-dog named Gunner.
